Jackson Ridge Studied As New Site for Airport

Miss Bourgeois Queen of Deep Sea Rodeo

Carol Bourgeois, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ory Bourgeois of Waveland, has been selected as 1962 Queen of the Deep Sea Fishing Rodeo. Carol, accompanied by Mayor Garfield Lusher and Joe Colson, attended a banquet in her honor at a Biloxi hotel on Friday night.

She attended Waveland School and is a senior at Bay High where she was a member of the homecoming court in 1958, a campus queen for three years and recently was chosen a member of the all-conference basket-ball team.

Survey of the 16th Section tract at Jackson Ridge for a possible county airport site was authorized by the board of supervisors Monday on the request of Beat 5 Supervisor R. G. Hubbard, Jr.

While Beat 4 Supervisor James D. Nodde suggested waiting until next Monday in case a price offer is received from the owner of another potential site, Hubbard noted that in writing for federal aid for airport expansion in the current fiscal year as suggested by U. S. Sen. John Stennis, he had said plans would be forwarded in the next few days. Charles A. Russ, Jr., of Beat 1 moved to get the survey, seconded by L. M. Frierson of Beat 2. Frierson observed any other site than the Jackson Ridge one advanced by Hubbard would entail a costly purchase.

Emile Piazza, county coroner and a flying enthusiast, objected to the angle at which Hubbard suggested plotting the runway because he said it would mean landing in a cross wind which would be rather difficult for light craft.

He conceded this is the same angle as the present airport where the supervisors have determined it unfeasible to secure the necessary additional land to extend the runway but maintained the proximity to the Mississippi Sound made winds much stronger. Piazza also expressed concern about giving up what the county now has in the way of an airport, saying it can handle all local planes. Hubbard replied that larger facilities were essential in view of the projected NASA test site and traffic it will create. He noted that the tract would provide 5,200 feet with purchase of a small area from Gulfside Methodist Assembly and offer good clearance with the water at one end and the railroad tracks on the other.

Attorney Lucien M. Gex cautioned that the supervisors would have to dispose of the present tract rather than subdivide it since that does not come within the county's province.

Hubbard, the board chairman, read a letter received last week from NASA offices in Huntsville, Ala., requesting assorted information about local facilities in regard to the atomic test site here and probable impact on the economy. He took occasion to call on his colleagues for better attendance at the monthly NASA coordinating committee sessions with its sub-committees, noting "this job means more than just two or three people doing the work. He added that several inquiries have been received about establishing trailer courts here but the promoters are not willing to invest sizeable sums unless they have "assurances of protection," presumably in the way of zoning.

The board agreed to table for the time being selling for naval stores a 16th Section tract in the Kiln area which failed to bring any bids earlier this month. Area Forester Glenn Purvis said reducing the price per acre on each tree from 15 to 10 cents had been suggested by forestry officials but the board took a dim view of this.

Jury Frees Andrews

2nd Shrimp Trial Today

Charges of resisting arrest against four shrimp boat operators from Biloxi, who had appealed justice of the peace court convictions, were dismissed early Wednesday afternoon by Judge Leslie B. Grant in Circuit Court after the morning was consumed with selection of a jury for their trial.

The four face trial this morning on appeals from JP convictions for catching, taking and transporting oysters without a license as the court moves toward adjournment for the March term.

A jury after just over an hour's deliberation late last Thursday returned a verdict of not guilty for Alfred Andrews, Negro from Louisiana, who had been charged with burglary and larceny at the Winn-Dixie supermarket more than a year ago.

Selection of the jury for that case consumed one and a half hours with either District Attorney Boyce Holleman or Michael Haas, defense counsel, challenging nine. The jury went out 6:45 p.m. and returned at 7:50.

Three Morgan City, La., men who had been indicted by the March grand jury on grand larceny charges involving theft of cattle at Ansley, surrendered themselves Monday and pleaded not guilty. Judge Grant fixed bail at $1,000 each and continued the cases to the fall term.

During the week the appeal of Sidney J. Doussan from a JP conviction for reckless driving was dismissed on a writ of procedendo.

Fund Need May Delay North Central Addition

Construction of the proposed classroom addition at Hancock North Central School may have to be delayed until next year so that federal aid can be secured to offset the county tax burden, Superintendent K. G. McCarty told the county board of education at its recessed meeting Saturday.

He said the matter arose when Dalton Shourds, architect for the project, presented the plans to Fred C. Naylor, executive secretary of the State Education Finance Commission. Naylor, he reported, inquired where the school system was going to get the money. The superintendent noted some $36,000 plus already is set aside for the addition which will run about twice that much so that securing help from Uncle Sam in the building may result in a delay.

McCarty told the Echo this week that he and Luther P. Tanner will continue their survey of enrollment and parents' employment places shortly in an effort to qualify for federal aid. The board earlier this month approved hiring Tanner to handle the application.

The superintendent added that he believed pupil enrollment at the north county school could be coped with for the 1962-63 session under present facilities and another year might give the county system more insight into what is needed for the NASA installation and other anticipated growth.

On the motion of Trustee S. P. Powell of Beat 4, payment to architect Shourds of $450 was approved in accordance with his invoice. (Cont. on Page 5.)

Monday Deadline For Homestead Exemption Filing

Applicants for homestead exemptions have one day of grace this year because April 1 falls on a Sunday but Tax Assessor George Heltzmann is asking the 300 property owners, he knows have not yet filed to avoid a last minute deluge.

Notices were sent to all who previously filed for homestead exemption and to those new landowners known to the assessor urging them to file by April 1.

Monday, April 2, is now the last date to apply to secure an exemption. The office closes at 5 p.m. on weekdays and at noon on Saturday.

Test Site Engineer On Visit

Horton Webb, NASA project engineer for the Hancock County test site, was here Tuesday from his headquarters at Huntsville, Ala., for a general inspection of the area and progress on the site acquisition, according to O. B. Moore, project manager for the Army Corps of Engineers real estate office.

While work is moving along well, Moore said he is not yet in any position to set a date for first acquisition of property in the fee simple area. He spent several days last week inspecting developments at Cape (Cont. on Page 10.)

We're Growing

J. C.'s Barber Shop, owned and operated by J. C. Schubert has opened at DeMontluzin and Second Streets opposite Jitney Jungle.

Mrs. Polly Fagen, real estate broker for 12 years in St. Petersburg, Fla., opened a real estate office in her home at 120 Coleman Ave., Waveland.

LET IT RAIN - That the day of the spring pilgrimage for Bay-Waveland dawned grey and rainy and to dampen the spirits of these hostesses clad in ante-bellum costumes and their friends who simply whipped out umbrellas to beat the weather. Posing under a huge oak on the grounds of the Brignac estate are, from left, Mesdames R. W. Riggs, Harold Hicks, Herbert Finlay, John A. Alfred F. McCaleb and E. C. Strong.

GARDEN CENTER WAS SCENE OF TEA - Bay Waveland Garden Center on Leonhard Avenue was scene of tea and antique lamp and clock show concluding pilgrimage events. On porch are Mrs. Hill, local pilgrimage chairman, and Mrs. Ruth Woods Luderbach, antique show chairman, with girls, Ellen McDonald, Lorraine deMontluzin, Piji White, Dale Russell, Kappy Clark, Jackie and Linda Hamilton. Busy indoors when photo was taken was Mrs. Frank Embrey, tea chairman.

Weather Is Barrier To Pilgrims

With a spirit somewhat akin to that of their forebears who came to Plymouth Rock some 200 years ago after a stormy voyage from the Old World, pilgrims flocked to the Waveland area last night for annual tour of homes and grounds despite a day-long chill.

The stop here has been the most marred by the weather in the 13th annual spring pilgrimage sponsored by the Gulf Council of Garden Clubs. (Cont. on Page 5.)

County Tract Part Of Huge Oil Lease

A large tract, principally in the western section of Hancock County, is included in the $32,000,000 lease during the last week by Cities Service Petroleum Co. in what is believed to be the largest oil and gas lease deal ever made in the state of Mississippi.

In announcing the exclusive right to exploratory and development operations on the acreage in 16 southwestern Mississippi counties and slightly more than 2,100 acres in St. Tammany Parish, La., Robert L. Kidd, chairman of the board for Cities Service, said the lease was in areas considered prospective for both Wilcox and Cretaceous sandstone production.

Leasehold agreements were obtained from Crosby Mineral Co. (H. H. Crosby, president) of Crosby, Crosby Forest Products (L. O. Crosby, president) and Crosby Chemicals, Inc. (R. H. Crosby, president) both of Piquette; Foster Creek Corp. (Crowford H. Ellis, chairman) of the board, and Louis B. Trenchard, president of New Orleans; and Southern Mineral Corp. (Cont. on Page 5.)

EYE ANNEXATION

The first step toward an engineering study of the feasibility and desirability of enlarging Bay St. Louis through annexation was taken last week when Mayor John A. Scaddie conferred with James Bittling of Mississippi's Agricultural and Industrial Board to learn if federal funds could be obtained to help pay for the survey. If matching funds are made available, the city could only pay one-third of the engineering expense.

NEW NURSE

Mrs. Margaret Wayne, R.N., former New Englander, joined the nursing staff of Hancock Hospital Monday on a part-time basis. With her husband who has moved here on business, she resides on Felicita Street.

Registration Sought For Retarded School

Steps toward prompt establishment here of a day care center for retarded children were taken when the Hancock County Assn. for Retarded Children met last week with professional workers in this field from Harrison County.

Parents of retarded children may secure information about opening of the center by telephoning Mrs. Lloyd Lewis, HD7-6314 or Mrs. C. A. Phelps, HD7-4285.

At least five children are needed to start the classes which Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Phelps will conduct in the old hospital building on Carroll Avenue which the association has been granted use of for its project. Mrs. Phelps is a retired school teacher from Louisiana who spent many years with retarded children there. Scoutmaster Carlos Arnold of Boy Scout Troop 220 has indicated those boys will assist by building work tables of the proper height for children.

Meeting last week with the county association which has been working toward the center for the last year under the presidency of Warren Carver were J. R. Allen, director of vocational training at Good Samaritan Center for Retarded Children in Harrison County, and Jeff McDaniel, social worker at the Veterans Administration Hospital in Gulfport.

"For too long," Carver observed, "the retarded child has been the forgotten child. It is now an established fact that many of these retarded youngsters can be helped in varying degrees. Any help they get gives them a better chance to be self-supporting, law-abiding citizens."

D. Penton Appointed

Fill North Cent'l School Slot

Hancock North Central School got a new superintendent next three years after an election held over the re- authority of the county board of education and the board of education.

Selected for the post on the recommendation of County Board Chairman K. G. McCarty was Jefferson David Pen-ton, presently vocational agriculture instructor at McLain. He will succeed Leo Rouse of George County whose contract expires June 30.

Before McCarty announced his selection Beat 5 Trustee E. P. Orte voiced dissatisfaction with the present two-year contract system and suggested making the agreement for three years, the board having the option to renew by majority vote of all members after the first year if the "man made good."

McCarty then recommended Penton but did not specify for how long a term. Penton, who sat in on the meeting, said he could not accept "If any politics are going to run me off," Orte assured him the job was not tied to politics and Alton D. Keller of Beat 2 moved his appointment for three years under the plan Orte suggested and he seconded it. Vote was unanimous.

McCarty then suggested the North Central faculty list for 1962-63 be held up until Penton could review it and that Loggins and Gulfview lists, already in his hands, be tabled until then. He added that he and Penton still had to work out salary and he thought the length of contract was for his determination. Orte complained that the board had jurisdiction over those technicalities. McCarty said he had never heard of a contract such as Orte suggested anywhere in the state and asked Attorney Walter J. Phillips to check its legality with the attorney-general's office.

Complaining that the board was endeavoring to strip him of all authority, the superintendent asked that he, as well as the board, have a vote on terminating the contract. The whole question was hotly debated by McCarty and Orte with S. P. Powell of Beat 4 (Cont. on Page 4.)

Nurses' Aide Classes Slated At Hospital

A new nurses' aide course is scheduled to start April 9 at Hancock General Hospital and continue for the next six weeks, Administrator Thomas O. Logue announced this week in calling for registration from interested persons by next Wednesday.

Instructor is to be Mrs. Nolan Ladner, R.N., who has qualified as a teacher under state regulations. While the course had been planned some time ago, it was delayed until a qualified person could be found to teach it, Logue said.

It is tentatively planned to limit enrollment for 14 persons but if more than that apply, this may be extended. Logue cautioned that the hospital will not be able to hire all those who successfully complete the work but noted the training is beneficial in securing positions in clinics, physicians' offices, and the like.

Applications may be secured from Mrs. Lewis Hart, director of nursing at the hospital, and should be returned to her by noon on Wednesday. Those accepted for the training will be notified next Friday, April 6. The 100-hour course probably will be conducted from 9 a.m. until 1 p.m. with one meal supplied. Age limit is 18 to 45 years.

The county department of education pays for the instruction and the state department grants the certificates, overseeing classes and materials used.

NEW NORTH CENTRAL HEAD - J. D. Penton of McLain, center, confers with County Superintendent K. G. McCarty, left, and Charles B. Murphy, president of the county board of education, after his selection at Saturday's school board session as superintendent at Hancock North Central School for three years commencing July 1.

Polly At Waveland

Spring, the first season of the year or that between winter and summer; reckoned astronomically from the vernal equinox to the summer solstice, according to the dictionary, is here—at least calendar wise and if one may judge by the blossoming of just about every flowering tree or shrub and the rash of cleaning both indoors and outside taking place at present.

Greek Independence

As weekends go, the past was relatively quiet—just relatively, as we've discovered that there's no such thing as a completely dead Saturday and Sunday on the Gulf Coast! As far as we can discover Greek Independence Day commemorating the 141st year of the liberation of Greece from Turkey, which was Sunday, March 25, was the only celebration on the calendar and we forgot to ask either Chris Amos or father-in-law, John Mazarakis, our only genuine Greek friends if they had any plans for the occasion—Happy Independence day to them anyway!

Late as usual, but we'll extend birthday greetings to Joan Glass and to her father, Mr. John DeSardone—she cut out one but two birthday cakes on March 23—his was the previous day, the 22nd. Another belated happy birthday wish goes to Bobby Benvenuti—enjoying a dinner party in his honor given by his wife and mother on Monday March 19, were Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Monti, Mimi and Joy Monti, Mr. and Mrs. William Steele, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Blotze and children and Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Georgi.

Deepest sympathy is extended to our good friend Joe Cipriano on the death of his mother, Mrs. Josephine Cipriano. The Ciprianos are frequent guests of Rita Cue.

Louise Wymer has temporarily discarded her gardener's jeans for a crisp white uniform. . . she's dispensing coffee to thirsty workers and visitors at the new enameling plant. Louise and Joe have been busy adding an elaborate new paneled kitchen complete with fireplace to their Farve Lane home.

Bea Georgi is all ready for any occasion—she has a lovely new white convertible. Bea attended the recent ordination at St. Augustine's and was granted an interview with the new Archbishop Co-adjutor of New Orleans, Bishop Cody.

Weekending Begins

Mr. and Mrs. Gerstner were more than happy to return to their summer home, Gerstner's Villa, for the first time in two months. . . Mr. Freddie had been tied up with election doings in the Crescent City. . . he visited his usual haunts on Saturday and passed on the word that neighbors Carmen and Dan Kirschenhauser had also arrived for the weekend.

Another group weekending in our area was approximately 60 women who stayed at Diehlman Center—they were preparing for the first group of youngsters who will arrive next Friday and report that the largest number of children yet will visit the center during the next few months.

Sports Scene

Green trout still make up most of the catches at present, but some specks have been caught. Charlie Mollere has his boat all ready and plans to try his luck around the end of the week.

Complaint Dept.

This particular gripe has been aired before, BUT this time we're really mad! Our subject is hit and run driving—Wednesday night as we were diligently assisting in getting the Echo ready for publication, some—, (blank space as we go through the mail), bashed in the door of our little white car and sped away—however, the guilty party left a loud sample of red paint on the door and we're now scanning all scarlet vehicles for signs of damage! Most people carry insurance and could repair the damage at no cost to themselves—or if one has no insurance, at least an apology would be welcome.

Bay Side of the News

Joie, Marietta and Yvonne Schwartz are now residents, having deserted Waveland for State Street. Fran and Albert Piazza have big plans for the new inboard—which they acquired from Ed Hawkins last week. Sheriff Price is once more planning his Courthouse garden—for the second time—the freeze ruined most of the perennials and the Mardi Gras crowd crushed his first planting of annuals. Larry LeBon drove over last Saturday to repair freeze damaged pipes in his summer home making ready for Marian and the children to enjoy at least part of the season in the Bay. Get well wishes to Mrs. Mary Noto who is recuperating at her home having been released from Hancock General last week.

Lots of new babies are born every spring, but when the Schmidt and Martinovich babies arrived at Hancock General last Saturday only four minutes apart there was a resulting traffic jam in the delivery room! Little Thomas Connaughton Schmidt put in his appearance at 2:30 p.m. weighing eight pounds, two ounces—his brand new first cousin once removed (Frank is Andy's uncle) Miss Nancy Ann Martinovich showed up at 2:34 tilting the scales at eight pounds, seven ounces. Good to see Miss Edwina Osborne at work once more—get well wishes also to Mrs. Marquez (mamma of Fanny, Eddie, Jessie and Ernest) who also underwent minor surgery last week.

Florida Vacationers

Mr. and Mrs. Fabian E. Buquol, Jr., daughter Joyce and Mrs. Lucien Pernicario returned home Sunday night after enjoying a 2,000 mile tour of Florida. While in Fort Lauderdale they visited Mrs. Pernicario's son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. David Dellinger. They also took in Jacksonville Beach, the Fountain of Youth at St. Augustine, Vero Beach, Miami, Everglades National Park, Sanibel Island, Cypress Gardens, Silver Springs and Tallahassee.

Ruth and Matt Ballatin, daughter Ann, and Kate and Roy Saut, Kathy and Barry spent Sunday at the newly completed Hillcrest.

Marriage Licenses

Applications of local interest for marriage licenses issued during the last two weeks by Circuit Clerk Lamar Ode are as follows:

George Carley of Gonzales, Tex., and Joyce Marie Frierson, R. 1, Pickens; F. J. Lee of Pickens; R. 3 and Eva Victoria Rigaud of New Orleans; Richard A. Hill and Regina Margaret Talbot, both of Kilm; Joe Rogers Harrel and Judith Lee Shaw, both of R. 2, Perkinson; Bernell R. Lader, R. 2, Perkinson, and Linda Elaine Mitchell, Salem; Douglas M. Seal of Santa Rosa and Frankie Jean Bennett of St. Louis; and Robert E. Gierke and Mrs. Dorothy Rita Lagasse, both of Waveland.

Senior Play Set At BHS

The senior class of Bay High School will present next Friday its play, The Boy Who Changed the World, with Alfred Watts cast as George about whom the story centers.

The story is about a teenage cave boy who isn't interested in the three Cs of his school-work—chabbing, chubbing and clobbering—like an ordinary cave boy, but would rather wander about the forest daydreaming. As a result, he would not receive his club with his graduating class in the spring.

Country Club Estates near Abita Springs. The adults golfed in the morning, pitched and played cards later in the day—the younger members of the group spent the day on horseback.

Webb Weds

Friends of former Echo reporter David Webb will note with interest the fact that he and Mary Lou (we weren't informed as to the young lady's last name) were wed on St. Patrick's day at Moffett Road Baptist Church in Mobile. The bride is also of the fourth estate being employed by the Times in Tyler town. David is in Madoville at present after graduating from Southern. The young couple spent one of their two gift honeymoons at Destin, Fla. Lorraine and George Fleming spent the best part of the week-end repairing freeze damaged pipes at their Gordon Street home—Bonner and David Dahlgren had similar plans, but didn't quite make it to Waveland. . . perhaps we'll see them next week.

Edouard Carrover also week-ended in his Beach Blvd. home—he cut quite a figure standing on the sawmill wearing a colorful sport jacket.

Mabel Mond is proof that one need not be hefty to bowl well—she picked up a spare and won a jackpot bowling award Saturday night.

A very happy birthday to Gee Mollere who was surprised with a fabulous flower bedecked cake on Tuesday, March 27, baked by Bill Stepleton.

Among those spending the weekend in their summer homes were Mrs. William Bradford, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Rowley, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Ryan, Jean and Fred Lister, Zaida Walmann arrived Friday to supervise planting in her always lovely yard.

J. F. Auderer, Jr., spent the weekend with parents, Margie and John. J. F. is attending LSU.

Julio Loup is now a career woman—she is a realty agent for Mollere's.

Phyl Lagasse can keep an eye on Coleman Avenue for us—Harold Hicks moved his office into the building between Mollere's and Wilcox.

A belated happy birthday to Gene Stanson, grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Evans Steger of Searo Avenue. He celebrated on St. Patrick's Day.

Deepest sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Anthony V. Serio upon the tragic death of their grandson, Tony, who lost his life when fire destroyed the family home in New Orleans. Tony's father, Pee Wee and his uncle, Alfred, are both employed by Auderer Dental Laboratories. As the family lost all of their possessions, with the exception (Cont. on Page 7.)

with gratification we note growing interest in sports local boys and girls—with new surge of activity the decrease in teen-age
sports a counter-balance.
There, there, will always be delinquents—it's impossible to find a perfect barrel of the same holds true with things—but one has only to look at local papers of one and two years ago and realize the progress that has been made in the right direction.

One of the wholesome activities in which members of the set are indulging include boxing, little league ball, sailing, water skiing,
swimming, (almost ti-nyway), horseback riding and auto racing.

The first local boxing match years will take place in St. Stanislaus gymnasium
tonight. Frankie Bateford adding up muscles for the weight division by working the new Waveland Post
each week day.

Wid Fagen will be one of local entries in the first sponsored Autocross to be held in the old drive-in-the-arena Sunday.

This year will also see the girls' little softball league.
Person will be playing Billere Realty, Carol Bour-will give Don's the benefit for athletic ability in the girls' league.

Imagine we'll be seeing some games in Waveland soon, the top has been erected in El-Park and the base paths are being reeded.

Career and Vocation Days at
A. and Bay High last week ended us to do a bit of checking plans of seniors for the coming year. Many plan to attend college. Bobby Van Calsem, Loup, Jimmy Giametta
Johnny Kramer have selected Lynn Rose, who has wantto be a nurse since she learned to talk, will enter the Baptist Vocation School.

Edy Brun, Jojo Horne and a Sturdevant, '61 St. Joseph nates, who are novitiates at St. Joseph in New Orleans, spoke before on Vocation Day.

Lynn Hall was among models participating in the Beta Phi fashion show last Friday night. Lynn, who graduates from Gulf Park Junior College in June has just about made up her mind to enter Vanderson University in Nashville.

Donel Gerstner, Jr.'s, many kids will be interested to learn
he became one of Uncle Sam's Marines on his 18th birthday Feb. 28. He's now taking training in San Diego, Calif.
We know he would appreciate the, and will use this medium to request his address from his father, Fred Gerstner.

Happy to hear the good news
Laurie Keffer is on the much improved list and should have been released from Hancock hospital by the time we go to press.

We have an idea that Yvonne wants spent on unusually quiet week—boy friend Pat was occasioned with "book learning"—under a bit of pressure, of course.
We welcome Kathleen Mc-

WHAT 100 NEW FACTORY WORKERS MEANT TO THEIR COMMUNITY

*Based on a survey of nine counties in nine states from 1940 to 1950.

Officials Get Going

The 12 questions NASA by letter last week asked Board of Supervisor President R. G. Hubbard and Mayor John A. Scalfide indicated what might be in store for the county and the city. The last question reads: "What problems are likely to reach serious proportions for the community or for the region in the event a new program requiring employment of approximately 3,000 construction workers for about 2 years, and 1,000 permanent workers is initiated in the near future?"

The concluding question points up the eleven prior specific questions which sought information on schools, traffic and roads, housing, employment, population, hospital facilities, building and zoning codes, trailer parks, retail shopping facilities, planning and utilities. The letter as a whole indicates a few areas where we are lacking in regulations such as planning, building codes and trailer park regulations, but Bay St. Louis and Waveland are in the process of correcting much of this. The county has not started.

What concerns us most, however, is the probable expenditures which will be needed in order for Hancock County, Bay St. Louis and Waveland to adequately handle the expected influx of people. As the chart printed elsewhere on this page indicates, for each 100 of the permanent workers there would be 196 additional people in their families, plus 174 other workers employed, who, if they moved here from another area, which is likely, would account for an additional 513 (174 + 296) people. Thus without allowing for workers at Michoud or possible industries connected with NASA operations, the 1,000 permanent workers would account for over 8,000 residents, but what the guessing figure for the 3,000 construction workers would be we refuse to guess.

If Hancock County and its two municipalities receive one-half of the 1,000 workers (and our understanding is that the minimum figure is 1,200), it must be equipped with medical facilities, housing, utilities and schools for an additional population of 4,000 or a 30 per cent increase. Thus the schools and the hospital must be enlarged, the municipal utilities probably expanded. All take money, and if done probably will mean higher taxes until increased property evaluations can take up the slack.

In any event, if Hancock County, Waveland and Bay St. Louis are to get the maximum benefit, with the minimum hurt, from NASA location in the county, much has to yet be done and our citizens should not unduly complain over needed capital expenditures.

Red Cross Here? Our Readers Write

Editors, Sea Coast Echo:

Operating funds for the Hancock County chapter of the American Red Cross come from you, collected each year in the annual fund drive. National Red Cross will assist chapters in time of disaster with funds and trained personnel, otherwise all expenses are paid by the local office. It cannot be kept open without your help. Can we afford not to have Red Cross in Hancock county?

Red Cross is the reporting service for the military. Who is going to contact a serviceman day or night when a serious emergency arises in his family? If you have had no word from your serviceman and would like word of him, or there has been a disaster, Red Cross can and does furnish these health and welfare reports. Do you know of AMCROSS? It is the largest leased communication network in the world outside of the military. It is in operation 24 hours a day every day. A report of an emergency verified by a doctor along with the request by the family for the serviceman's presence can be sent anywhere. Only the military NOT Red Cross has the power to grant or deny leave.

Emphasis has been placed on service to the armed forces and their families because it is the largest item in the budget of the American Red Cross. Disaster, contrary to popular belief is not.

Many services are given by Red Cross. Did your family participate in the water safety programs last year? Lack of funds hampers this vital program. Were you trained in first aid? Do you know of the Gray Ladies and of the volunteer Hospital Council. They give freely of their time and money to bring entertainment and supplies to the two Veterans Administration hospitals in our vicinity, also Keeler Air Force Base hospital. These are only a few of the many services given. Through you we can help, you are Red Cross. Your membership ($1) is needed to keep the Hancock County open. If you have not been contacted, please mail your contribution to American Red Cross, Bay St. Louis, Miss.

Can't a club be gotten up for us golden age "youngsters?" They have them in other parts of the states—why not here. We could get to meet our neighbors. We have youth centers. Why not golden age. Let's see how many are for it. All in favor say "aye."

Methodists Open Visitation Program

Every member visitation program of Main Street Methodist Church opened this week for the conference year 1962-63 and will continue for 10 weeks. Climaxing the observance will be Loyalty Sunday on May 20.

Paul Miller is director for the program with Dan Byers as program chairman; Paul Raymond as visitation chairman; Mrs. Sam Whitfield, education; James McDonald, material. Each will have from three to five members on their committee.

During the program a congregational dinner is planned in the fellowship hall to be supervised by Mrs. Whitfield and her committee.

Area Hospital Administrators Meet

Charles R. Gage, executive director of the Louisiana Hospital Assn., was guest speaker for the South Mississippi hospital administrators' meeting at Haverty's Restaurant last Thursday night.

He spoke on hospital charges and policies of billing that would be fair and open to the public. He also reminded administrators of the Southeastern U. S. hospital meeting to be held in New Orleans during April.

Clifford C. Losberg, Jr., president of the Louisiana Hospital Assn. and assistant director of Ochsner Foundation Hospital also was on the program.

Presbyterians Set Dedication On Palm Sunday

Dedication of the new sanctuary of First Presbyterian Church on Ulman Avenue is scheduled for 3 p.m. Palm Sunday, April 15, Rev. E. A. Lindsey, minister, has announced.

Lenten services for the congregation are continuing with Mr. Lindsey to preach the fourth in the series at 11 a.m. Sunday. For the vesper service at 5 p.m. Dr. Richard L. Summers, pastor of First Presbyterian Church of Gulfport, will be preacher.

The sermon for the vesper service April 8 will be Rev. Frank Brooks, pastor of Westminster Presbyterian Church of Gulfport, and on Palm Sunday morning the preacher will be Rev. Claude Pritchard, D. D., secretary of the board of church extension from Atlanta, Ga.

Special music for all the services is under the direction of Mrs. Robert Teague. Soloists will be Mrs. Camille Schaefer, Mrs. Alex Jensen and Lindsey.

Step toward Tyranny

Because determining boundaries of a political district, whether it be a board of supervisor district, a United States congressional district or a state senatorial district, requires value judgments for which the judiciary is neither established nor qualified, the Supreme Court of the United States as well as most state supreme courts has for years held that such a problem was political in nature and was the function of a legislative branch of government and not of a judicial branch. Consequently these courts have refused to take jurisdiction in suits seeking to force the legislative authority to redistrict even where inequities were apparent. (The petition for a vote on a particular redistricting plan for a county available in Mississippi is not judicial redistricting.)

In a decision handed down Monday the Supreme Court of the United States reversed its earlier decisions. We have not as yet seen the text of the court's opinion but news accounts indicate the majority felt that the due process clause of the 14th Amendment entitled voters to nondiscrimination in numbers in apportionment of state legislative seats. How the court got around the generally acknowledged "political" nature of the suit and the court's consequent lack of jurisdiction is not apparent. The justices probably just shut their eyes.

Anyhow the court has taken jurisdiction of this class of suit, and any pleasure we may feel at this new route to much needed reapportionment for Mississippi and redistricting for Hancock County is more than outweighed by our apprehension over this new evidence of our country's drift to judicial tyranny. 'Tis a far worse tyranny than a legislative one - at least there's some chance of voting legislative masks out.

Nevertheless, notwithstanding our view concerning the court's decision, this makes an easy way to force redistricting in Hancock County if the supervisors won't give quick action.

Gulf Coast History Power Play in Europe

Italy, to a limited extent, may be excepted from this statement of European conditions for there, in the course of time, the merchants had become rich through their trade with the far east via Egypt. Wealthy and generous patrons encouraged education, and the fine arts flourished within the narrow limits set by the Church of Rome.

But Italy's political division made national expression impossible. Disunited since the fall of Rome she offered such a poor picture of defense that Spain, France, Austria, smaller robbers and pirates did not hesitate to despoil her of land, and attack her individual merchants both overland and on the Mediterranean Sea. Under such circumstances there was no hope of gaining and holding possessions across the Atlantic even though the sailors were competent. For two thousand years these sailors had been navigating the coasts of the Mediterranean and the Atlantic, chiefly north of the straits of Gibraltar; but as they were without navigating instruments, except the compass, until Prince Henry invented the astrolabe they had never ventured far from land. At the time of the discovery of America it was not their fault that their country secured no share of the new world. After Prince Henry had taught them the use of the astrolabe and had spurred them on to venture ever farther into the unknown seas for centuries - but in the interest of countries other than their own; they established trading posts in the Orient and slave depots in Africa for Portugal; and in so doing they helped to make Portugal rich and their own Italy poor; for the Portuguese took the Eastern trade away from the harassed Italian merchants. Thus Italy had no part in the discoveries or developments in world trade except through the reflected glory of her sons sailing under other flags.

About this time there was the beginning of a united Spain. Ferdinand, heir to the throne of Castile, married Isabella, heir to the throne of Aragon - uniting the two strongest States in Spain. (To be continued.)

Finally, with Keller and Phillips in the role of mediators, it was agreed to let the matter rest and go forward in order.

Keller, however, said that from the time he was named to the position, he had been working to get the school back on its feet.

Harry Hears... Sports And Spring

The cold days of winter have passed, spring has arrived, and summer is just around the corner. Football time has come and gone, basketball season, except for pro games, has bid us farewell, and once again, the national pastime, baseball, is in season.

"Who's gonna win the pennant?" "Will Maris hit 60 home runs again?" "Can the Yankees continue to dominate the American League as in the past few years?" "Will Cincinnati take their second straight N. L. title despite spring setbacks which have left them without a proven third baseman for most of the year and with a chance of their leading pitcher not rounding into shape before opening day?" Can the New York Mets and the Houston Colts survive as well as the new A. L. entries last year? These are some of the questions you hear people debating every day. These are the questions that stir the excitement and enthusiasm that makes baseball the game it is.

With the start of the official major league season less than two weeks away, teams are making last-minute roster changes, trying to find the combination which is supposed to make them kings of the diamond.

Baseball is one sport in which the best team usually wins. Sure, the Angels might upset the Yankees, but over a 162-game schedule, one upset doesn't make that much difference. In major league baseball, the team with the most talent (providing that talent isn't related to muscle pulls, sore arms, broken knees, etc.) is the team that usually "takes the cake."

Picking winners in the major leagues is hard, because one never knows how injuries will affect different teams. You can't base judgment on spring training records - at least a month after the start of the regular season is needed to see who the top clubs are. We'll give our opinions, however, on how we think the '62 races will wind up and, at year's end, see how we fare.

Forecasting in the NL

The National League is the hardest to predict. Lately, a different team wins every year, and the only team we'll be safe not picking, it appears, is defending champ Cincinnati. If we thought Cincinnati had the best team, we'd choose them, but we honestly do not think the Reds are the best in the powerful National League.

We can eliminate the Colts and the Mets from any chances of a title chance - they've both looked far from terrible in exhibitions, but do not have the personnel to finish first. The Phillies - well, no much for them. And the Cubs, although not the worst team in the N. L., and a possible first-division finisher, have very little chance of winning.

Half of the National League's 10 squads now are left - Pittsburgh, Los Angeles, San Francisco, Milwaukee, and St. Louis. The Cardinals have been red-hot in Florida, but they usually are, and we don't think they're quite ready to challenge for the pennant. The Pirates will have to make a big comeback after a disappointing '61 season. The world champions of '60 are good, but we don't figure they'll do any pennant-winning either.

The three remaining teams - Los Angeles, San Francisco, and Milwaukee - we think have the best chances of winning in the well-balanced National League. Milwaukee has strong pitching, featuring Warren Spahn and Edgely Rubeen, and a good hitting corps - Eddie Mathews, Hank Aaron, Frank Bolling, Joe Adcock, etc. Los Angeles has a great amount of talent, with young blood the trademark of the team. Don Drysdale and Sandy Kousser are two of the best of the good Dodger moosemen. Hitting is commonplace - power hitting and less-explosive hitting. The Giants have the incomparable Willie Mays, the home-run king of the league last year, Orlando Cepeda, and some good young pitchers.

Our choices do not follow the consensus, but here, in order is the way we'll pick N. L. clubs to finish: Milwaukee, Los Angeles, San Francisco, St. Louis, Cincinnati, Pittsburgh, New York, Chicago, Houston, and Philadelphia.

We'll Take Detroit

In the American League, the choice isn't nearly as hard. Or maybe we should say, it shouldn't be as hard, because we don't think this is the Yankees' year. Mantle and Maris are no superstars and you can't expect a pitching season from Whitey Ford quite like last year.

Kansas City, Boston, Los Angeles, Washington, and Minnesota we don't believe have a chance. This leaves New York, Cleveland, Baltimore, Detroit, and Chicago, and since we've already voiced our opinion about the Yankees, four teams are still in the running.

Detroit gave the Yankees a real battle last season, and a year's experience is going to be a valuable asset to the Tigers' chances of winning this time around. The Bengals have top-notch pitching, and two or three real good hitters. Jim Bunning and Frank Lary, among others, should have good pitching seasons and Rocky Colavito, Norm Cash, Al Kaline, and others, should get base hits.

Baltimore, Chicago, and Cleveland must be considered underdogs with an outside chance of winning. All three have good teams, but unless one of them suddenly catches fire, they'll not wear the crown. Baltimore, in our opinion, is the team most likely to be a surprise.

Here's the A. L. Order: Detroit, Baltimore, New York, Chicago, Cleveland, Minnesota, Boston, Kansas City, Los Angeles and Washington.

NCAA Finale

The semifinals and finals of the NCAA tournament in Louisville Friday and Saturday brought plenty of surprises. First off, UCLA came within one second of upsetting Cincinnati Friday night, losing 72-70 when Cincy's Tom Thacker hit an outside shot in the final seconds to spoil the Bruins' title hopes. We said last week we thought UCLA could beat Cincinnati, but when the Ohio quarter jumped to 10-0 and 18-4 leads early in the game, it was too much.

Ohio State looked as powerful as ever Friday night in rolling over Wake Forest, but Jerry Lucas, their tremendous center, injured his knee in the contest, and a half-healthy Lucas wasn't enough for the Buckeyes Saturday night. Cincy won 71-59.

We watched a replay of the game on television Sunday, and can't see how people think Lucas was employed 2-1 by Bearcat center Paul Hogue. Lucas's shooting touch wasn't perfect - his looks were pretty constant but his jump shots were off - but he played a good defensive game, and the reason he was held to 11 points was not the defensive play of Hogue but rather the defensive play of two two-to-five Cincy players who surrounded Lucas nearly the entire game. Hogue did block one or two of Big Lu's shots but with two other players around to help him, all but holding onto Lucas, he didn't really accomplish much. Cincinnati has a good team, but if they played again with Lucas well, we'd pick Ohio State.

Bay St. Louis's first boxing matches in quite some time will be staged Friday night at St. Stanislaus gym. Ronnie Peterson, Frank Blumstein, Glenn Blaise, and Orville Ferrell are the local boys scheduled to participate against boxers from Pascagoula and Biloxi. The matches will begin at 8 p.m.

Tiger Thinckeds Prep for Season

Bay High's track hopefuls are preparing for a tough season ahead as practice began last week. Coach Wilmer Seymour said that a Gulf Coast Conference and a District Track Meet are on the Bay High schedule, but that the individual track meets will be scheduled while opportunities arise.

Bay High last year had a record which showed several wins and several losses. This year, however, the team is expected to do better. The team is expected to do better. The team is expected to do better.

Southeastern Pushes Frosh Math Classes

Students who plan to study physics or mathematics at Southeastern Louisiana College, Hammond, will be interested in the change in the freshman mathematics curriculum which is being made in the 1962 summer term. Dr. J. W. McClimans, head of the mathematics department, has announced.

Dr. McClimans said the entering freshmen will be allowed to begin their college mathematics with analytical geometry and calculus rather than with the standard courses in college algebra and trigonometry provided they have the necessary qualifications.

These qualifications are at least three and a half years high school credit of college preparatory mathematics including trigonometry and satisfactory scores on the placement tests given each student at the beginning of the session.

He noted that the change is especially important for pre-engineers who might expect to attend Southeastern for one or two years and then transfer to engineering schools, because many universities no longer count college algebra and trigonometry for credit toward a degree in technical fields.

In addition, the department chairman said, all those who can should qualify for advanced placement in mathematics because this will give them time to take more advanced courses which are so important today for physicists, mathematicians and chemists.

Sports Car Event Draws Large Entry

The inaugural Spring Autocross, sponsored by the Bay St. Louis Jaycees and designed specifically for sports cars, will be staged Sunday, beginning at 12 noon with over 50 cars from at least three states participating. The course for the event is located at the site of the old Drive In on U. S. 90.

Bill Knowles of the local Jaycees said Monday, "We have had to expand almost every division. It looks like we will have over our estimated 50 cars."

Many participants have already entered and the entries committee reports that the remaining entrants will be taken on a first come, first serve basis. Drivers from Alabama, Mississippi, and Louisiana have already entered.

The race will be a race against time rather than speed - only one car will run at a time - and possible injury to spectators is expected to be avoided that way.

The course will be available for practice runs at 9 a.m. on the date of the race. Drivers wishing to take advantage of entering early are requested to mail check or money order to Autocross, Bay St. Louis Jaycees, Box 383, Bay St. Louis. An early entry fee of $3 is charged.

Bay High FHA Unit Gives Style Show

The Bay High Chapter was in charge of the style show at the sub-district meeting of the Future Homemakers of America at Piquette High School last Saturday.

Mrs. J. E. Ervin, faculty advisor, accompanied Carol Ann Smith, Linda Dunham, Rhyple Rausch, Connie Neale, Kathleen Schaefer, Geraldine Kidd, Kathleen Smith and Barbara Noonan, who modeled and Paula Cridder who narrated the show.

Mrs. Pfeiffer Sets New Bowling Record

Mrs. James Pfeiffer Sunday rolled the highest league game ever scored by a woman at Bay Bowling Center Sunday when she chalked up a 229 game in the Big Wheels League.

The figure topped previous highs set by Penny Lankford at 223 and Mrs. Lionel Bordages at 221. Mrs. Pfeiffer's series for three games Sunday was 541 to tie her honor in her league.

Legal Notice

Honorable Board of Mayor and Aldermen Town of Waveland, Mississippi

Gentlemen:

Pursuant to our employment we have made an audit of records of the Town of Waveland, Mississippi, ended September 30, 1961.

SCOPE OF AUDIT

The audit covers the general town funds and the special fund system funds.

We traced all receipts of record in the town funds and all disbursements of record in the utility funds. We traced all receipts of record in the town funds and all disbursements of record in the utility funds. We traced all receipts of record in the town funds and all disbursements of record in the utility funds.

GENERAL TOWN FUNDS

The books are kept on a cash basis. The various schedules of this report have been prepared on the basis of revenues collected and expenditures actually made during the period September 30, 1961. There were, however, amounts of $1460 not paid until after the close of the year. This amount has been deducted from the closing balance of the applicable funds.

All maturities of bonds and interest have been paid and bonds and coupons due but not presented for payment have been accrued and a reserve has been charged against the bond fund balance for the outstanding bonds and coupons.

The bonded indebtedness at the close of the fiscal year 1961 was $470,000.00 as compared to $400,000.00 at the beginning of the year. Of this amount of $470,000.00 outstanding $340,000.00 in water and gas system bonds, the principal and interest is payable solely from the derived from the water and gas system. The balance of $130,000.00 of the bonded debt supported by the full faith and credit of the Town amounted to 5.02% of the assessed value of 60 taxes.

UTILITY SYSTEM AND FUNDS (TERRITORY)

The accounting records of the water and natural gas funds are kept on an accrual basis. The exhibits and schedules have been prepared on the same basis. No inventory of supplies were taken.

The number of customers served by the water and gas funds have increased again this year. Below is shown a summary of customers at the close of this fiscal year as compared to the year 1960.

ASSETS AND OTHER DEBITS - UTILITY

Additions to the fixed assets of the utility system for the year ended September 30, 1961, were $3,323.89. (See Schedule 1.) An item not included in the assets was the extension of mains to property owners. The customers paid for the pipe, the labor for laying the mains and the customers paid for the material giving full title to the lines to the water and gas system. Pipe and materials sold to customers for the year ended September 30, 1961, were $2,275.14. (See Exhibit "F")

SINKING AND SPECIAL FUNDS

These funds consist of amounts deposited for sinking and gas meter deposits. A special trust fund was established in the National Bank, Trust Department, Memphis, Tennessee, for the payment of interest and principal currently due on the bonds of the Town of Waveland, Mississippi. The balance in the Special Trust Fund in the National Bank, Trust Department, Memphis, Tennessee, at the close of the fiscal year 1961 was $1,100.00.

DEBITED DEBITS

All bills for services rendered or supplies furnished during the year 1961 or prior years, of which we had no record, were entered and paid.

OPINION - ALL FUNDS

In our opinion the books have been honestly kept and the accounts have been properly audited. We have not audited the accounts of the various departments and agencies of the Town of Waveland, Mississippi, for the year ended September 30, 1961.

Millie Usher Wins Spot on AAU Team

MILLIE USHER

Boyle to Speak

University's new football coach, Tommy O'Boyle, has been invited to deliver the main address at the all-sports day for St. Stanislaus College on May 12.

Millie Usher, former basketball star at Bay High, was named last week to the Southern AAU women's basketball team and leaves Saturday to compete in the National AAU tournament beginning Monday in St. Joseph, Mo.

Millie, daughter of Mrs. Mildred Usher of Clearmont Harbor, began her basketball career while attending Clearmont Harbor Elementary School and, using chiefly a one-hand set shot from outside with deadly accuracy, led Bay High's girls' team to several successful seasons, once helping the Tigerettes into the South Mississippi A-AA event.

After graduation in 1955, she continued to play for two years at Pearl River Junior College. Millie presently is a student at the University of Southern Mississippi.

She was selected as one of a 12-member team which will represent the South in the national tournament. Southern AAU Coach Louis Smith picked the team and half of the girls chosen played in the Logtown independent tournament last weekend. The team is known as the Murray Males of Hattiesburg.

McNeil Outscores Logtown in Finale

McNeil outscored underdog Logtown by 20 points in the fourth quarter to break wide open a close game and capture the annual Logtown Independent Basketball Tournament in the boys' division, 67-39. Picaune Florist came out on top in girls' play, downing Perkinson Junior College 46-34 in Saturday night's finale.

McNeil, composed chiefly of coaches, had a real battle on their hands for three quarters, leading only by eight points going into the fourth quarter, but led by the tournament's most valuable player, head basketball coach Jack Gallagher of Pearl River Junior College, they scored 29 points in the final stanza while holding Logtown to nine.

Gallagher scored 17 points in the championship game to rank second on his team, but 12 of the points came in the final quarter of play. Former Bay High star Tommy Godwin and Melvin Barnes scored 15 and 11 points, respectively, to pace Logtown in a losing effort.

The girls' championship affair saw Picaune defeat Perkinson by 12 points as Perkinson played without their leading player, Gayle Carter. Judy Walley scored 21 points in the championship game to lead the winners to the title.

The most successful Bay St. Louis entry, the Bay Praline Kings, matched McNeil point-for-point in a semifinal contest Saturday afternoon before falling 56-54. The locals, led by W. J. Cameron and Tommy Croswell, led most of the way only to fall behind in the final few seconds of play.

Named to the all-tournament team in the boys' division were Cameron and Croswell of the Praline Kings, Gallagher, Billy Wayne Smith, A. P. Lumpkin, and Dave Watts of McNeil, and Godwin and Barnes of Logtown.

The girls' all-star team consists of Judy Walley, Doris Beale, Carolyn Davis, and Ilene Strahan of Picaune Florist, Henrietta Wescovich, Lana Monroe, and Mary Dosette of Picaune Drug, Margie Holland, Emma Kaze Lee, Rachel Region, and Betty Gumer, of Perkinson Junior College.

Carolyn Davis and Doris Beale were voted most valuable in the girls' division, and Gallagher won the MVP award in men's play.

Gallagher Gets Coaching Post At Stanislaus

Appointment of Mike Gallagher to completing his studies this spring at Spring Hill College in Mobile, as assistant coach at St. Stanislaus College to succeed Billy Rhodes, resigned, was announced this week by Brother Dorian, athletic director and principal.

Gallagher is a graduate of Immaculate Conception High School in Elmhurst, Ill., where he was president of his freshman and senior class, football captain and member of the grid, basketball, baseball and bowling teams during most of his four years. While there he won the Dr. Murphy trophy for the most valuable backfield player, first football award and second bowling award.

The new staff member attended Notre Dame University for one year and made the frosh football team.

Track Meet Also Set

St. Stanislaus and Bay High nines staged a practice game Monday afternoon as a warm-up for regular season play. At top, Ray Chinchis of SSC, is at bat, while below a Stanislaus player slides into base with a cloud of dust.

Rocks Open Diamond Season on Friday

St. Stanislaus College will open its baseball season against Kern School of Pass Christian at 3:30 p.m. Friday on the SSC diamond.

A track meet is scheduled simultaneously with Bay High School and Notre Dame of Biloxi. The Rock thin-clads competed in a four-team event Wednesday at Biloxi under the coaching of Billy Rhodes.

Donelson Caffery

Donelson Caffery, 60, brother of Mrs. Marcel A. Gillis of Waveland and Liddell Caffery of Pass Christian, died last Thursday in Beaumont, Tex., following an illness of several years. The funeral took place Friday in Beaumont.

Member of a prominent Louisiana family, Mr. Caffery was born in Franklin, La., and spent his youth in New Orleans. He started his business career as a roustabout for Sun Oil Co., and by 1930 had worked up to assistant to the manager of the Gulf Coast division, later becoming general manager himself. During World War II, he served as chief of pipe line operations of the Petroleum Administration of War. Son of the late Donelson Caffery and Martha Taylor Caffery, he was the grandson of the late U. S. Sen. Donelson Caffery.

Also surviving are the widow, the former Marion Taulbee of Bay City Tex., a daughter, Mrs. George Lee Campbell of Beaumont; four sisters in addition to Mrs. Gillis; one other brother and two grandchildren.

Richard Haas

Word has been received here of the death of Richard Haas, eight-year-old grandson of Mrs. Melva Haas of Kila, which occurred Monday night in High Point, N. C., where he resided with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Austin Haas. The boy was taken ill on Saturday. Mrs. Haas was there for the funeral services on Wednesday.

Mrs. Daniel Lee

Final rites were for Mrs. Sarah Angelina Lee, 80, of Piquette, who died March 16 at Crosby Memorial Hospital where she had been a patient for 12 days, were March 17 from McDonald Funeral Home with burial in Mitchell Cemetery.

Born July 25, 1881 in Hancock County, she is survived by her husband, Daniel Lee; eight sons, Lamar, Hubert, Hollis, Francis, Percy Lee, all of Piquette; Elvin Lee of Carriere, Eljah Lee of Logtown, Buford Lee of New Orleans; four daughters, Mrs. Jeff Whitfield of Piquette, Mrs. J. D. Penton of McLean, Mrs. Henry Beech of Jena, La., Mrs. J. E. Seals of Slidell; three brothers, R. Mitchell of Piquette, Leslie Mitchell of Bay St. Louis, Beamon Mitchell of Jena; four sisters, Mrs. Magnolia Seal of Piquette, Mrs. Elizabeth Page of Bay St. Louis, Mrs. Mary Lee of Buras, La., Mrs. Emaline Mitchell of Jena; 61 grandchildren, 51 great grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Engineer Visits...

Canserv, Fla., accompanied by Melvin Dovitch of the corps' Mobile office. Moore termed the trip "very interesting and informative."

Two more employees have joined the staff of the real estate office this week, he announced. Mrs. J. S. Blanchard, resident of Bay St. Louis for 21 years, has joined the legal section. She was formerly employed at Coast Electric Power Assn. Her husband is with a refrigeration firm in New Orleans.

Margie J. (Buddy) Bonger, Jr., native of Kila, has joined the cartographic section.

WHEN YOU HELP... WE CAN HELP

daughter of Capt. and Mrs. John W. Clark and a senior at Bay High School. Ann plans to use her scholarship to attend Rice University in Houston, Tex.

State winner was Minnie Mercedes Fleming of Central High School, Jackson.

Announcement of the winners was made by General Mills in Minneapolis, Minn.

Miss Clark, not only considers sewing her favorite home-making duty, she is a professional. "Various friends and relatives commission me to make clothes for them," she says. "The most money I earned from any one job was $10 for a suit for my aunt."

Among her other spare time activities are playing the piano (she accompanies the school chorus), reading, sailing, swimming, bowling, little theater work, sketching, writing short stories and traveling. Her most interesting experience in the latter field was a cruise she and her family took on the Caribbean two years ago.

The 1962 Betty Crocker Search reached an all-time high in enrollment, with 406,132 girls in 12,874 schools participating. In the eight years since the program started, more than two and a half million girls have enrolled, and scholarship awards have totaled more than three quarters of a million dollars.
